Potential Candidates and Current Employees

Introduction

We believe that transparency is important and appreciate that you trust us with information that is important to you. We want to be open about how we use it and so this privacy notice will let you know about the data we collect, how we use it, the controls we give you over your information, and the measures we take to keep it safe.

Information we collect

When you submit your application and or CV, we collect a lot of personal information including your name, address, telephone number and email address, during the recruitment process we also collect data including referee details, next of kin details or medical information.

Why do we collect this information?

The information we collect is used to allow us to carry out a fair and equal recruitment process, to allow us to contact potential candidates during the recruitment process and allow us to build a picture of our applicant pool.

We need to further collect data for our employees to allow us to maintain data required by law including right to work documentation and documentation needed to process a DBS application, other data is collected to allow KEYFORT to process employee pay or to provide evidence to our regulators of employees.

We will use contact details including home addresses, email address and phone numbers to correspond with our employees on matters regarding their employment or to send relevant company announcements.

How do we keep your information safe?

All candidates information is kept in a file on our secure company shared drive. The shared drive can only be accessed with a username and password and access rights are restricted only to employees who need to see it. Some information may be kept in paper files which are held in a lockable cabinet in our offices.

In terms of all our employees all information is held on a secure cloud based system, People HR. Each employee is provided with a username and password which allows them to access their own record. A small number of KEYFORT employees have the ability to access employee information; this includes members of the Employee Services Team and the Employee Line Manger.

In order to ensure we have all of the information to keep you safe when on session, all on call managers will have access to some basic information about you including your emails address, telephone number, address, medical information (if relevant) and next of kin details. These are stored securely.

Who else might get to see your personal information?

- The Care Quality Commission (CQC)

As an employee if you are delivering support to a service user for whom is receiving care which is regulated by CQC, we have a legal obligation to share some of your information with them as they check to make sure that the service you are provided is of a high standard.

- Disabled Students Allowance Quality Assurance Group (DSA-QAG)
As an employee if you are providing support which is funded by Student Finance England, we have an obligation to share some of your information with DSA-QAG in order to be able to provide the support.
- External partners
We transfer information to service providers, and other partners who process it for us, based on our instructions, and in compliance with this policy and any other appropriate confidentiality and security measures. Examples of this are to allow us to invoice for the support we have provided or with our IT Company to make sure that your personal information remains safe.
- Safeguarding
We have a legal obligation to share information with the local adults or children's safeguarding team or even the police if we felt that you or others were at risk of harm.
- Professionals linked with your support
We may need to share some information with other people involved in your support for example the organisation funding the support, disability services and other medical professionals. Not all of these will apply to you and who we will have contact with will be discussed with you at the start of your support.
- Training organisations
If you wish to complete any external training, we will need to be able to pass your contact details, date of birth and national insurance number to the training provider. Prior to working with any training providers, we will check that they have policies which comply with current data protection policies. If you don't want your contact details to be passed on, we would be unable to arrange the training but do have a suite of internal training you could still access.

Your rights in relation to your data

- Your personal information being correct
You have the right to ensure that the information we hold about you is correct. If you find that it is not, you have the right to have it changed. We will make any changes requested as soon as possible.
